PROGRAM NARRATIVE

A. PROBLEM DEFINITION

1. Identify the nature and magnitude of the specific problem existing in your particular community that needs to be addressed through this proposed project. Document the need, not the symptoms or solutions. Be sure to include current valid local data or state data, if local data is not available, to support the justification. Give the source and date of your information. State the needs of your agency and the needs of the victims in your area as related to this problem and justify the need for the proposed project.

Iberia Parish is located in southwest Louisiana, 150 miles west of New Orleans. It is part of Cajun country with heavy influence of French culture. It is a rural area where many of the underserved population live. The population is 73,266.

Services to the underserved are impeded by many challenges such as culture, transportation, economics, and education. For some communities, females have not traditionally questioned unacceptable practices in the male female relationships. People practice what they have been taught including the traditional male female role, such as “the man is head of the household” and make all of the decisions. With this traditional idea in practice, a woman in a violent home may find it difficult to believe she could possibly build a life for herself and her children that is free from violence. Feeling isolated, she is usually fearful to expose the abuse to community. Although the community as a whole is aware that spousal abuse exists, it is not something that is easily discussed, and usually remains hidden. There is a social stigma, along with feelings of self-blame attached to exposing domestic violence, especially in the underserved communities. Even though most families are known within the community, family business is not to be discussed, especially with outsiders. This helps to keep domestic violence silent within this population, especially if the abuser is well regarded. Many victims within the underserved population also find some perpetrators in positions of authority, such law enforcement, clergy, or business leaders. This makes it difficult for a victim to develop trust of those in authority when seeking safety and be a compelling factor in a woman’s decision to remain silent. If a woman makes a decision to attempt to leave, she puts at risk her safety and that of her children because she does not have a place to go. Her partner is aware of her family, friends and any other place that she might go.

Other challenges facing victims access to services is a lack of transportation and absence of economic opportunities. Many underserved communities have no public transportation, such as buses or taxicabs. This fact alone can greatly limit a victim’s ability to seek employment, go to work if she did find a job or go to school to further her education. Job opportunities that do exist are at best seasonal and pay low wages. These barriers only serve to enhance the perpetrators control over their partners.

The need in the underserved community is for collaborating advocates to provide services that includes empowerment advocacy, intervention, prevention and public awareness that will bring about social change, by transforming the public’s perception and tolerance of domestic violence, dating violence and child victimization.

The number of women and children serviced in 2010 were 305 new women and 223 carryovers and 361 new children. SNAP assisted in the completion of 385 restraining order and 787 counseling and advocacy sessions. The number of women and children served in 2011 have increased, 324 new women and 261 carryovers. Total women serviced increased by 57 women. The numbers are continuing to increase in the number of TRO's completed. In 2011 SNAP assisted in completion of 405 TRO's, which is an increase of 20 orders. As the numbers continue to increase, we expect to see larger numbers this new grant period.

2. Describe gap in community resources and how the gap was identified. Explain what need is created by this gap in services/programs.

A major gap in resources is the lack of coordination among different services providers. SNAP has an excellent relationship with the Iberia Parish Sheriff's Office. We have collaborated with trainings and have through mutual understanding of our services with have developed an very good working relationship and respect for each other. Many officers have expressed to us their frustration, that after arrest and charges are filed, many times the charges are reduced and there appears to be no accountability held to the abusers. There is a lack of training of the judges and D A's. Because of this many victims feel that the system has let them down.

B. GOALS

GOALS: The primary mission of all projects is to have a positive impact on the victims, not just to accumulate statistics on how many are served. Attach original current letters of support and/or written cooperative agreements indicating awareness and cooperation/role with this project.

SNAP encourages all victims to report the crime of domestic violence to law enforcement. Networking with local law enforcement agencies is an on going policy for SNAP. SNAP works closely with Iberia Parish Sheriff Office in a collaborative effort to educate officers. Law enforcements agencies consult with SNAP in developing training classes. It is essential that a strong working relationship be maintained with local law enforcement agencies, as they are the first to arrive on the scene of a domestic crime. All of these efforts are conducted with the safety and rights of the victim in mind.

SNAP has developed a "tear off" sheet booklet for officers throughout Iberia Parish to use at each crime scene/call. These "tear off" sheets resemble a ticket book. The sheets are for the victim and contain SNAP's hotline number, information on how to file charges, how to obtain a restraining order, and how to access SNAP services. These sheets have been well received by the police officers. The cost to reprint the last group of "tear off" sheet booklets were shared by the Jeanerette City Judge and the Jeanerette Marshall's Office.

SNAP also refers all crime victims to the Crime Reparation Board for possible financial assistance involved with the crime of domestic violence.

SNAP has a wonderful working relationship with the Health Care Communities, Office of Family Service, Child Protection, and the Faith Communities. Each has played a very critical role in providing services to the women and children we serve. Understanding that these rural communities are oftentimes also, underserved communities, SNAP is committed to establishing and nurturing as many partnerships as possible to help provide access to the services needed to assist victims of domestic violence.
